PETER BELISLE

Head Coach

*Connecticut 1995
First Season*

Peter Belisle becomes the program's 11th varsity head coach after spending nine years with Division I University of Connecticut as an assistant coach. The New England Native spent his first year of coaching with College of the Holy Cross, where he helped guide the Crusaders to their first playoff victory in 13 years. He returned to UConn the following season to help guide the program that he was once a part of as a four-year standout player. Belisle helped direct the Huskies to a 19-16-1 mark in 1999-2000, en-route to a Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference championship in 2000 and was behind the bench for UConn's second 20-win season in 1998-99 when it put together a 20-10-4 mark, including an 18-6-4 record in MAAC play.

Prior to his joining the coaching ranks, Belisle was a four-year letter winner with the Huskies from 1991-95 as a forward. During his playing tenure at Storrs, UConn posted one of the greatest four-year periods in school-history with a 71-25-12 mark, including four ECAC playoff appearances. He is still the second all-time leading playoff goal scorer in Connecticut ice hockey history and during his junior season, was the recipient of UConn's 7th Player Award. During his career with the Huskies, he tallied 36 goals and 42 assists for a total of 78 points.

Belisle's coaching experience is not limited to his collegiate tenure, having instructed and been a coach at several of New England's premier hockey camps as well. He has served as a head instructor at the Connecticut Hockey Experience, the Learn to Skate Program at UConn, Bill Belisle's Hockey School, and the Mount Saint Charles Instructional Hockey Program and for the past three summers, Belisle coached at the USA Hockey Team New England Select 14 and Select 15 Player Development Camp.

Prior to his collegiate career, Belisle was a part of Mount Saint Charles Academy teams that captured the Rhode Island State championship twice and, during his junior season, the Mounties' success wasn't limited to the state level as they were crowned national champions as well.

The native of Manville, RI, graduated with a bachelor of science degree in business administration, management from UConn in 1995 and followed that with a master of arts degree in sport management in 1999 also at the Storrs campus.

Belisle currently resides in Cumberland, RI with his wife, Carrie.

JEFF PELLEGRINI

Assistant Coach

Jeff Pellegrini joins Coach Belisle in their first year at UMass Boston. He will serve as the staff's recruiting coordinator and will concentrate his on ice efforts with the team's defensemen. The Lynn, MA native is that rare individual who has enjoyed outstanding success as both a player and coach in his career.

During his two seasons as an Assistant Coach at Nichols College, Pellegrini helped guide the Bison to their most successful season ever. Much of the team's success can be attributed to his recruitment and development of high-level talent. The team owned the highest-scoring offense in the nation and boasted three freshmen, who were all named to the ECAC Northeast All-Rookie squad, including the league's Rookie of the Year. Two Pellegrini recruits were ranked among the nation's top 10 in scoring and another was the highest-scoring defenseman in the country.

Prior to his arrival at Nichols, Pellegrini made his mark on the junior hockey circuit as well, mentoring the Boston Junior Blackhawks to four consecutive appearances at the National Junior B Championships. Several of his players moved on to the Junior A and collegiate hockey levels as well. Pellegrini's achievements did not go unrecognized as evidenced by his being tabbed by his colleagues as the coach of the Interstate Junior Hockey League All-Star team.

Before coaching the Blackhawks, he enjoyed a tremendous career playing for them. The former blueliner finished as the program's all-time leading scorer with 497 career points and was inducted into the Blackhawks' Hall of Fame. Pellegrini was a dominant player in the IJHL and was named the league's Most Valuable Player three times as well as being named a three-time Defenseman of the Year honoree.

He currently resides in Lynn and is pursuing a masters degree in business administration from Nichols College.

JERRY KEEFE

Assistant Coach

Providence 2000

Jerry Keefe begins his coaching career at UMass Boston this season after a very distinguished playing career. A very knowledgeable hockey presence, his main focus will be in working with the team's forwards.

Keefe has excelled at every level of hockey that he has played at. The former center enjoyed a stellar collegiate career from 1996-2000 with Division I Providence College, racking up 98 career points in 102 games. He led the Friars with 52 points as a junior and 36 assists that year was the 12th-highest single-season total in school history.

Following his career at PC, Keefe went on to play five years of professional hockey, including two seasons in Europe and a stint with the Anaheim Mighty Ducks minor league affiliate in Cincinnati of the American Hockey League. He also saw time in the East Coast Hockey League.

Before beginning his collegiate career, Keefe starred on the junior hockey circuit for the Omaha Lancers and led them in scoring both years he was there and was named the team's captain and Most Valuable Player in 1996. In addition, he was named to the USHL All-Star team twice.

While at Matignon High School, he helped the Warriors to a State Championship and was selected All-Scholastic as well as Player of the Year in 1993. During his prep career, he was also a member of the United States National Select 16 & 17 squads.

A 2000 graduate of Providence College with a bachelors degree in business administration, Keefe currently resides in Saugus with his wife, Maria and son, Owen.

This season marks a new beginning for UMass Boston men's ice hockey. New coach, new players, new attitude.

Head Coach Peter Belisle enters his first season as a head coach after spending nine seasons as an assistant with his alma mater, Division I University of Connecticut. Coach Belisle arrived on campus during the summer and wasted no time in recruiting new talent to lace up the skates and compete for the Beacons. He also put together an impressive coaching staff with recruiting guru Jeff Pellegrini and former Providence College standout Jerry Keefe coming on board. The Rhode Island native's enthusiasm to build a winner at UMass Boston has been infectious and was evident by the turnout just to put on the Beacon blue and white sweaters. Pre-season camp saw 40 players vie for 29 spots, including eight goalies for three slots.

The Beacons welcome 14 newcomers into the fold, including 11 freshmen. Without one senior on the roster, the team is not without some experience as four juniors return for UMass Boston, including a pair of defenseman, who will provide leadership.

Part of the team's strength could be its naivete, which could come in handy when you consider it plays one of the toughest schedule's in the nation. To the new players, the match-ups are just another game and they couldn't care less who they are playing, they just want to play.

Forward

The Beacons first two lines of forwards will feature some fantastic freshmen mixed in with experience from last year.

Ryan Daust (Marquette, MI) and Cody Austin (Highland, MI) are just two of the many fine players, who have traveled from the Midwest to play for UMass Boston. They are probably the most complete players on the team and should both make a tremendous impact on the offensive end of the ice. Daust has great size and speed, while Austin is extremely fast and will see time on both the power play and penalty kill units.

Drew LaCombe (Burlington, MA) and Jake Carlson (Hermantown, MN) will provide quickness and be expected to help out right away on the Beacons' first line. LaCombe has outstanding offensive skills and great hands, while Carlson is extremely skilled and quick as, perhaps, the team's best skater. Jeff Diehl (Grand Rapids, MI) is a powerful forward with a rocket shot, who should rack up a lot of goals, while sophomore Michael Muolo (Stoneham, MA) returns after a solid first season and is expected to provide a significant contribution to the Beacons as one of their more experienced players. UMass Boston has more experience at the forward position as well with hard-working Kyle Simpson (Scituate, MA) returning for his third year after picking up nine points on six goals and three assists a year ago. He will be one of the teams main penalty killers and see significant ice time.

The Beacons also return a group of sophomores, who should all contribute. Aaron Burke (Rowley, MA) is big and strong and will be counted on for his aggressive play. He will see consistent time and be an asset on the power play as well, while Chris Flaherty (South Boston, MA) returns to the team after taking a year away from competition. He skates well and has a good shot and will look to return to the form of his first season when he tallied five points in 21 games. Robert Schwartz (Philadelphia, PA) will make the move from the blue line to up front, where he can use his great shot and release to put up some offensive numbers, while classmate Tyler English's (Cambridge, MA) tireless work ethic should push his peers as the group comes together throughout the season.

Freshman Michael Jordan (Pittsburgh, PA) is a smart, crafty player from the steel city and should get better as the season goes on, while sophomore newcomers Marcus Fajardo (New York, NY) and Rich Stone (Quincy, MA) will provide depth for UMB. Fajardo is speedy with great hands and a good offensive touch, while Stone is the ultimate team player and will vie for time on the ice.

Defenseman

While the Beacons' youth is bursting with talent and should fuel their expectations, the defensive unit possesses good experience. Junior captain Andrew Ward (Evanston, IL) will provide leadership and a sound defensive front, while sophomore Billy Langmaid (Danvers, MA) will be counted on to log a lot of minutes in all situations on the ice. Ward assumes captain status for the second straight season and should stabilize the UMass Boston defense. He saw action in 26 games a year ago and is an outstanding defensive player, especially in one-on-one situations. Langmaid has good offensive skills and tallied 10 points on six goals and four assists to lead all UMB defenseman in 26 games last year. He has a great shot and will run one of the power play units.

Junior Hunter Dowd (Brick, NJ) also adds experience on defense and is a sound defenseman, who moves the puck and plays his position well, while sophomore James Hall (Middletown, NJ) returns for his second year after a solid debut last year. He is a quick player, who appeared in 21 games last year and moves the puck well.

A trio of newcomers should also provide quality ice time for UMass Boston in sophomore transfer Wade Collins (Corinth, NY), who saw action in 12 outings at Utica College last year and is a hard-working, gritty defenseman and should see significant time, while freshman Steve Ebbole (Wheaton, IL) is extremely poised and will help run the power play unit. A very strong skater, he should be one of the Beacons' top rookies. Freshman Drew Hursa (Malden Bridge, NY) can also move the puck and sees the ice well and should see regular time on the ice as well.

Freshman David Allen (Londonderry, NH) just adds to the team's mix of experience and youth and could see time at both forward and on the defense, as will junior Chris Gaffney (Danvers, MA). Gaffney works hard and skates well, while Allen is a big player with a great shot, who should only get better.

Goaltender

The Beacons return a veteran goalie from last season, who saw significant action and is joined by a pair of freshman. Sophomore Chris Testa (Massapequa, NY) saw action in nine contests last year and just under 400 minutes. He got the starting nod six times and played nearly a quarter of the team's minutes, while stopping 278 shots for an .880 save mark. He has good size and experience at the college level.

Freshman Ryan Donovan (Rexford, NY) enters his first collegiate season after a stint with the Hartford Wolfpack in the American Junior Hockey League. He also honed his skills at Avon Old Farms school and is compact and very quick. The first-year goaltender will begin the season as UMass Boston's starting goaltender.

Freshman Ryan Dundovich (Philadelphia, PA) also steps into his first collegiate season. A goalie with good size and athleticism, his work ethic should help the Beacons' preparation and keep him sharp in his quest for ice time.

It's a new day for the Beacons and for the program. With so much good, raw talent and a strong leader, UMass Boston men's ice hockey looks to be back on track.

Home to 12 of the most prestigious ice hockey programs in the nation, the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) is a conference filled with tradition, legendary players, coaches and administrators and a bright and exciting future.

In terms of tradition, no conference can lay claim to the history of the ECAC.

The birthplace of collegiate ice hockey, member institutions have been sponsoring the sport for nearly a century. On February 1, 1896 in Baltimore, Maryland, Yale faced Johns Hopkins in the first collegiate ice hockey game. Two years later on January 19, 1898, Brown defeated Harvard in Boston in the first college hockey game between schools still sponsoring the sport.

From a team standpoint, Cornell (1969-70) stands as the only team in NCAA ice hockey history to produce a perfect unbeaten and untied record en route to the Division I men's title. The Big Red posted a mark of 29-0-0 under coach Ned Harkness, a Hockey Hall of Fame inductee in 1994.

On the ice, legendary players such as Princeton's Hobart Amory Hare "Hobey" Baker, Cornell goaltending sensation Ken Dryden, who led the National Hockey League's Montreal Canadiens to five Stanley Cups, and Clarkson's Dave Taylor, who starred with the NHL's Los Angeles Kings, are among the numerous standouts who made their mark in the conference.

The ECAC East is comprised of 10 teams, including Division II Saint Anselm College and Saint Michael's College. ECAC East plays an interlocking schedule with the New England Small College Athletic Conference. Each game played within this schedule is counted as a conference contest. Each school will play every school once during the regular season, but each conference will have a separate post-season tournament. All Division III teams will qualify for the tournament.

The University of Massachusetts Boston was established in 1964 to provide the opportunity for superior education at moderate cost to the people of greater Boston.

Starting out in a downtown Boston location, the university moved to its current 175-acre campus on the Columbia Point peninsula in 1974 and merged with Boston State College in 1982. A commuter school, UMass Boston is nationally recognized as a model of excellence for urban universities.

UMass Boston enrolled 11,862 students in the 2005-2006 academic year, with 8,958 undergraduate students and 2,904 graduate students comprising a multicultural and diverse student body. Students of all ages are enrolled at UMass Boston and students of color make up 34 percent of the university's undergraduate enrollment. More than 90 languages are spoken in the homes of members of the 2004 graduating class.

UMass Boston's graduate school and six colleges offer over 100 undergraduate majors, minors, and programs of study, and nearly 61 graduate programs, including 14 at the doctoral level., while the university's 30 institutes and centers are actively involved in research and public service in the areas of public policy; gerontology; media; labor; women in politics; African-American, Latino, and Asian issues; and environmental concerns. More than 280 active research and training grants attracted a total $35.6 million in external funds—a new record of success—for the fiscal year 2004-05. Comparing five-year averages shows the amount awarded UMass Boston increased a remarkable 70% between 2001 and 2005. The university employs 821 distinguished faculty members, including Lloyd Schwartz, winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Criticism.

Located in the Boston community of Dorchester, UMass Boston offers excellent views of downtown Boston, the Harbor Islands and Dorchester Bay. UMass Boston shares its campus with the John F. Kennedy Library, which offers its archival resources to UMass Boston students and instructors. The university's own Healey Library is an information gateway to more than 600,000 books and journals on campus and to thousands of electronic information resources on the Internet.

Other academic facilities include the biology department's three greenhouses, which host collections of plant species native to tropical, desert and temperate climates, and The Instructional Technology Center, a professional development and technology facility for faculty and staff, which opened in 1996.

The Clark Athletic Center is home to UMass Boston's varsity athletics program and features a 3,500-seat arena, a hockey arena that seats 1,000, and a swimming and diving facility equipped for intercollegiate competition. The Beacon Fitness Center is equipped with more than 25 cardiovascular machines, a universal weight machine, 16 Nautilus stations and free weights. The Fitness Center also houses two racquetball courts, a squash court, an aerobics room, a walking track and a two-level lounge.

The newest major addition to the UMass Boston landscape is the 331,000-square-foot Campus Center — a $50 million project which centralizes student services and activities. The campus' new "front entrance" opened in April of 2004.

There's no doubt. The city of Boston and the surrounding area boast many of the world's finest institutions of higher learning. And UMass Boston is one of them. Here's why you should consider UMass Boston.

 UMass Boston is a member of the Little East Conference, which is unquestionably one of the top Division III conferences in the nation.

 Aside from providing a competitive playing environment, the UMB athletic department also doubles as a place where students can receive hands-on training in nearly all facets of athletics administration.

 At UMass Boston, you learn from the best. A faculty with more Harvard Ph.Ds than any school in the United States (except Harvard).

 The university is the only educational institution in the Northeast that shares its campus with a presidential library.

 UMass Boston has won four NCAA Division III national championships, 19 individual national titles and has seen 21 different athletes achieve All-America status a total of 94 times.

 Our home, the Clark Athletic Center, is one of the best Division III athletic facilities in New England.

 UMass Boston is the only four-year, state-supported institution inside the Interstate 95 beltway.

 Students have the opportunity to commute from home or live off-campus with teammates.

 We're located just three miles from downtown Boston with all of the city's major attractions easily accessible from the campus.

Your academic advisor will also work with your professors. Your instructors will update the athletic department with progress reports, and when you are having trouble, they will let us know. But more importantly, they'll let us know how we can help you.

As a student athlete at UMass Boston you will have unique opportunities to represent the University on a national level and in national programs.

Sports Medicine

Quite simply, the sports medicine center at UMass Boston is one of the best in the area. It combines the best facility with the best people -- all with the goal of keeping Beacon student-athletes healthy.

The sports medicine room falls under the direction of head athletic trainer Ed Perkins, a UMass Boston graduate and former athlete with the Beacons. Before taking over at UMB, Ed worked with the nationally ranked men's basketball team at Temple University before returning to Division III athletics at MIT and at Bridgewater State College.

Shannon Soares, a certified athletic trainer in her own right, is the university's assistant athletic trainer. Shannon's credentials include a stint with Dennis-Yarmouth High School as its head athletic trainer and two summers working with top major league baseball prospects in the prestigious Cape Cod League.

What that means to you is that when you become a member of the Beacons, you are in the safest environment possible. Whether it be injury prevention, evaluation, treatment, or rehabilitation, the training staff at UMass Boston is looking out for you.

Before you are eligible for competition, you will be required to undergo a thorough physical examination. You will be monitored throughout the training phase and competitive season. And the training staff works closely with your head coach to make your participation in Beacon athletics as safe as it can be.

To ensure quality individual care, the training staff regularly acquires the latest and most effective modalities. The sports medicine center at UMass Boston is equipped with a four-channel electrical stimulation with combination ultrasound unit, a paraffin bath, two hydrocollator units, a Jobst compression unit and a whirlpool bath.

Strength & Conditioning

The University of Massachusetts Boston is one of the few NCAA III schools in the country to offer a year round strength and conditioning program.

The varsity weight room is designed to improve all areas of athletic performance for all sports. The strength and conditioning coach is a certified professional. The focus is to educate and train athletes on how to properly execute exercises that will allow them to be more efficient with the sports specific movements and enable them to participate with a reduced chance of injury. Our goal is to produce athletes who are faster, stronger and more powerful, in order for them to compete at their highest level.

Academic Advising

At UMass Boston we prepare our students for life.

And because the life of a college student can be much more challenging than a basketball game or a soccer match, the UMass Boston athletic department provides you with the means to be successful in whatever sport you play, and also in the game of life.

UMass Boston's academic advising center for student athletes is designed to help each Beacon athlete in every sport complete his or her undergraduate degree. We make sure that our students are not solely concerned with maintaining athletic eligibility. We work extensively with the faculty and professional staff on-campus, and we help our students with course selection, advising and counseling, and career and graduate school exploration.

When you enroll at UMass Boston, you will get to know your advisor quite well. One of our primary focuses is freshman-year retention, so we are highly motivated in your first year to work with you to develop a plan for academic success. Your advisor will meet with you on a one-to-one basis and introduce you to the Clark Athletic Center's computer lab--a fully equipped facility open exclusively to UMB student-athletes.

The student athlete at UMass Boston has a wealth of athletic and recreational facilities available within the confines of the Clark Athletic Center.

The athletic center has served as the home of the Beacon basketball program since its completion in 1981.

Named for Catherine Forbes Clark, a former trustee of the University of Massachusetts system and prominent Dorchester civic leader, the Clark Athletic Center emulates its namesake by serving the University community as well as area residents throughout the year.

Considered one of the finest athletic and recreational facilities in Greater Boston, the complex accommodates the school's 16 intercollegiate sports and extensive intramural program. The Center's building houses a main gymnasium, which includes a 3,500-seat basketball arena along with three auxiliary basketball courts and two volleyball courts, a 1,000-seat ice rink, and an Olympic-size swimming pool with a high-dive area, six 25-yard lanes and an observation deck. A weight room, creative room and a sports medicine area round out the interior of the structure.

Outside the building, UMass Boston boasts an eight-lane 400-meter track, eight tennis courts, a softball diamond and two multipurpose fields primarily used for soccer and lacrosse. The outdoor facilities also include a boathouse and dock for the sailing program as well as several recreational fields.

athletics.umb.edu

UMass Boston hosts the National Youth Sports Program, an NCAA-sponsored summer camp for inner-city youth, as well as the Dana Barros Basketball Camp, the All Dorchester Sports League, the Boston Youth Games, the Boston Housing Authority Jamboree, the Bay State Games and MIAA state tournament games in soccer, ice hockey and basketball.

The athletic center became the new home of the Boston Shootout, the premier high school basketball tournament in the nation, in 1997 and has served as a workout facility for the Boston Celtics and the 2000 McDonald's All-American High School Basketball team, while also serving as the site of the Sprite Slam Jam. During the summer of 1999, the center began hosting the Shaw's Summer Pro League, featuring current and future stars of the NBA. The center also hosts the Indiana Pacers and San Antonio Spurs during the NBA season, serving as a practice site for both of those teams on their visits to Boston.

The Clark Athletic Center saw its most excitement for 2000 in just one night when on October 3rd, the University hosted the first United States Presidential Debate of 2000. When the parties finally agreed to the Boston debate, the event was suddenly only two weeks away. In that time frame the Clark Athletic Center had to be converted into a debate hall and the adjacent hockey rink into a media center, replete with red carpet, approximately 700 phones, more than 70 televisions, and accommodations for almost 1,600 media representatives from around the world. The complex has also doubled as a concert venue, hosting multiple-Grammy winning artist Kanye West in 2006.

UMass Boston also boasts one of the finest personal fitness facilities in the area in the Beacon Fitness Center. The state-of-the-art recreational area provides students, faculty and staff with modern equipment in a clean environment.

The fitness center offers cardiovascular machines, nautilus and free weights, squash and racquetball courts, a walking track and aerobics.

Intercollegiate athletics, intramurals and recreation for students, staff and faculty are the primary programs of the UMass Boston Department of Athletics. The department offers 16 varsity sports and is a member of the NCAA's Division III. UMass Boston has teams competing in the ECAC, the Little East Conference and ECAC East Ice Hockey. Ninety-three Beacons in seven sports have been named All-Americans. The women's indoor and outdoor track and field teams had an outstanding record of achievement, including four NCAA Team Championships and 37 individual NCAA Championships.

But the Department of Athletics has another important concern as well--service to the community. Whether it's complimentary use of the University's athletic facilities, coaches' and student athletes' sports clinics for youth groups, or holiday visits to area hospitals, UMass Boston Athletics is in the forefront of serving area neighborhoods and communities throughout the state.

- More than 150 school, charitable, government and private organizations use UMass Boston athletic facilities each year at little or no cost.
- Over 150,000 people visit our athletic facilities each year, as participants or spectators.
- UMass Boston's indoor and outdoor athletic facilities are in use by visitors for over 2100 hours each year.
- In 2005 the National Consortium for Academics and Sports named the Department of Athletics at UMass Boston as # 1 in the country for Community Service for the eighth straight year.
- UMass Boston was named "Honorable Mention" by the National Association of Division III Athletics Administrators/Jostens in the category of An Array of Projects or Activities.

UMass Boston is in a unique position as the only public university in the City of Boston. For that reason, the University has a responsibility above and beyond its mission to provide a superior higher education at moderate cost to the people of the metropolitan area. Because of its urban environment and its spacious, coastline location, the University can reach out to its neighbors and provide first rate facilities for healthy, stimulating sports and recreational activities.

National Consortium for Academics and Sports member institutions develop Outreach and Community Service programs with current student-athletes and former student-athletes from the Degree Completion Program. Over the last twenty years, NCAS member institutions, through their outreach and community service programs, have reached more than 14 million youth nationwide with messages about violence prevention, gender sensitivity, conflict resolution, the importance of academics and athletics, staying in school, the dangers of drugs and alcohol, and much more. Since 1985, NCAS student-athletes have given over 15.7 million hours of community service.

There is no one way to conduct school outreach programs. It is clear from the great work done by NCAS members that there are many

NCAA CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS

The 2000-01 school year marked the department's first year as a member of the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills program. Presently, 323 institutions and six conference offices now participate in this NCAA supported life skills program. The NCAA mission of CHAMPS/Life Skills is "committed to a comprehensive program that provides educational experience and services in order to develop well balanced lifestyles for student-athletes; to encourage growth in decision making, planning and fulfillment of career and life goals."

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program will be presented this year at UMB through the development of workshops/guest speakers that address identified life skill needs in the five commitment areas of this program.

As part of our membership in CHAMPS/Life Skills, each year one of four student athlete nominees will attend the NCAA Foundation Leadership Conference.

STUDENT ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) is comprised of student athlete representatives from each of UMass Boston's teams. The purpose of the organization is to promote all UMB sports and provide student athletes an opportunity to impact those issues that affect their daily lives.

SAAC is the student athlete's voice and their vehicle to implement new ideas and influence positive change to enhance the student-athlete experience at UMass Boston.

Members of each team will nominate and select an eligible student athlete to represent their sport on the SAAC. An alternate will also be selected, in the event that the designated representative cannot attend a meeting. It is expected that each team will be represented at every scheduled meeting/event.

Throughout the year, student athletes are encouraged to communicate ideas and concerns to the respective representative of their sport.

The Codfish Bowl

Considered the premier Division III hockey tournament in the country, the Codfish Bowl is the second-oldest invitational in the nation.

The Codfish Bowl hockey tournament originated on Huntington Avenue with Boston State College. Boston State athletic director James "Gus" Sullivan and hockey coach Ed Barry formed the event in 1965 with the intent to provide small schools in the area a tournament to display their talents. The two named the tournament after the state fish, the cod, and the hockey gala was born.

Boston State won the first five tournaments and captured six of the first seven titles. Following the merger of Boston State with UMass Boston in 1982, the tournament has been a part of the Beacon tradition for the last 23 years, in which time it has evolved into a showcase for Division III hockey.

Adding to the prestige of the Codfish Bowl is the legacy of great performances throughout the tournament's history. Several of the key performers in past Codfish games have gone on to success in the professional ranks as well. Boston State goaltender Bill Berglund earned two consecutive Most Valuable Player awards in the tournament before moving on to the World Hockey League. Dick Lamby of Salem State won MVP honors on his way to the Olympic Games, the St. Louis Blues and the New York Rangers. Lowell's Craig MacTavish was the MVP of the 1978 tournament, and he went on to win Stanley Cups with the Edmonton Oilers and New York Rangers. Hubie McDonough, meanwhile, won MVP honors for Saint Anselm in 1984 before taking his game to the New York Islanders and San Jose Sharks.

In addition to the personalities, the Codfish Bowl has seen equally memorable moments. Longtime followers of the tournament will never forget Dick Kelly's end-to-end rush in 1969 as Boston State edged Merrimack to win its fifth straight title. UMass Boston fans will remember Scott Duffy's double-overtime goal against eventual national champion Babson in the 1983 championship game and Mike Snuggs' 32-save shutout in 1997 to help return the bowl to the Harbor Campus. Ryan Equale of Connecticut ended the longest game in tournament history when he scored with seven seconds remaining in double overtime to give the Huskies their first title. And who can forget the 1986 tournament, in which all four games were decided in overtime.

Nickname and Colors

Looking to establish an identity for UMass Boston's athletic program, the athletic department staff selected Beacons as the University nickname, and royal blue and white as the school colors in the mid-1970s.

The nickname was chosen because UMass Boston sits on Boston Harbor, where lighthouses dot the coastline. The most renowned lighthouse in Boston Harbor, or the rest of the country for that matter, is Boston Light. Located at the entrance to the harbor, the structure has guided ships to safe harbor since first illuminating its beacon in 1716. The British destroyed Boston Light in 1776, but Governor John Hancock had the lighthouse rebuilt in 1781.

On September 23, 2002, UMass Boston introduced a "new" Beacon and changed its colors to Beacon Blue, Black and White.
