MAURA CROWELL

Head Coach

*Colgate 2002
Third Season*

Maura Crowell enters her third season with UMass Boston after leading the Beacons to back-to-back ECAC East tournament semifinals appearances at the helm of the women's ice hockey program.

In just her first year with the Beacons, Crowell led them to school records in both regular-season and ECAC East victories with a 15-9-1 mark, including a 12-7-0 showing in league play. Under her guidance, UMass Boston advanced to the ECAC East semifinals for the second time in three years, following a first-ever home playoff game at the Clark Athletic Center and three of her players earned All-Conference honors.

Crowell followed her first year with another trip to the ECAC East semifinals and another home playoff game for the second straight year. Three more of her players were honored with All-Conference accolades as she improved her record as the winningest women's ice hockey coach in school history as well as becoming only coach in school annals to guide her team to a pair of playoff victories during her tenure.

Prior to her arrival, she spent the previous two seasons as an assistant coach with Connecticut College of the New England Small College Athletic Conference. She helped guide the Camels to their first-ever playoff appearance and also served as an instructor at the Connecticut College Development Hockey Camp. Prior to her time at Conn. College, Crowell served as an assistant coach for the Saint Mark's School girl's ice hockey program in Southborough, MA and gained head coaching experience as the Lions' junior varsity lacrosse mentor. The Massachusetts native remains active within the ice hockey instruction arena, having served as a talent evaluator at the Texas Affiliate Camp, which is hosted by the Texas Amateur Hockey Association and a coach and evaluator for USA Hockey's Rocky Mountain District Camp in Salt Lake City, Utah. She also coached at various camps throughout the summer months, including the Massachusetts Satellite Program, 14 and Under USA National Development Camp, Boston University Hockey Camp, the Hamilton College Hockey School, the Dynamic Skating program at Merrimack College and Hub City Hockey.

Crowell enjoyed an outstanding collegiate playing career at Division I Colgate University, before moving onto the coaching ranks. The left wing helped the Raiders to three straight ECAC playoff appearances, including a date in the ECAC Championship as a sophomore, and a 63-37-7 record for an impressive .621 winning percentage in her four seasons in Hamilton, NY. The four-year starter was named an Assistant Captain for her senior year and was also selected to the ECAC All-Academic team for her final season. Since her graduation in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in German, she is still prominent in Colgate's record book, ranking ninth in career points (61), sixth in career goals (29) and ninth in all-time assists (32).

The Mansfield, MA native starred at Saint Mark's School on the prep level, twice leading the Lions ice hockey team in points, while earning captain status for her junior and senior campaigns. She also excelled for the Saint Mark's field hockey program and led the field hockey and ice hockey teams to the New England Prep School Athletic Conference title during her career.

Crowell received the Valentine Piotrow German Prize, awarded for academic excellence in German Studies at Colgate and added a Master of Arts in Teaching degree in German to her mantle in 2004, while at Connecticut College. She has been extremely active in community service, helping to organize a "Big Sister" mentor program for Hamilton, NY girls playing youth hockey in addition to serving as a counselor at Brantwood Camp in Peterborough, NH, working with underprivileged adolescent girls in a residential setting and volunteering in the Special Olympics as a speed skating instructor in Connecticut.

Coaching Staff

WOMEN'S
ICE HOCKEY

KRISTIN CIRBUS

Assistant Coach

Colgate 2005

Kristin Cirbus is in her third season with the UMass Boston coaching staff as the squad's first assistant and will direct the Beacons' defensive schemes during game situations.

Cirbus is no stranger to Coach Crowell, having played together as teammates for the 2001-02 Colgate Raiders when Crowell was a senior and Cirbus was a freshman. During that season, Cirbus led Colgate in assists and would top the team in helpers the following season as well. The right wing graduated Colgate in 2005 ranking 14th on the Raiders' all-time career points list.

Not only does Cirbus have an impressive playing career on her resume, but the Jamestown, NY native has also compiled valuable experience on the coaching level, serving as an instructor for 12 years at the McFall Brothers Hockey Camp in her hometown and another two years coaching in the Rick Heinz Hockey School. Cirbus was also an instructor at the Boston University hockey camp as well as the Dynamic Hockey camp.

Prior to earning a geography degree with a minor in education from Colgate, Cirbus starred on the junior hockey circuit for the Syracuse Stars, helping them to a pair of national championships as well as three state titles and a state crown with the Buffalo Bisons as well.

Cirbus also served as UMass Boston's Interim Head Women's Tennis Coach in the fall of 2006 and is pursuing a masters degree in business administration at UMB.

She now resides in Boston.

MALLORY YOUNG

Assistant Coach

Colby 2005

Mallory Young joins the UMass Boston staff after gaining valuable coaching experience as an assistant on the New Hampton School girls hockey team's bench in New Hampshire.

Prior to her coaching stint at New Hampton, Young enjoyed a solid four-year career for Colby College in Waterville, Maine, where she was a forward and saw action in 84 contests for the Mules. She helped Colby to a 13-6-2 mark in her first season for the former Division I program and finished her career with eight goals and two assists for 10 points, including a pair of game-winning scores.

The New Hampshire native starred in both ice hockey and lacrosse, while at Hanover High School and used her lacrosse knowledge to later serve as the Head Coach for the New Hampton School Junior Varsity squad.

Young currently resides in Dedham and owns a geology degree from Colby.

The 2007-08 season could be the biggest test in the program's history. The Beacons graduated their top two scorers of all-time as well as an all-conference defenseman and have many unanswered questions. Will the goal-scoring be there? Does the team have enough experience?

If anything, UMass Boston's brand of hockey will be much faster than in the past and with a great amount of energy and balance on the ice. The Beacons will rely on a number of players to get the job done in the offensive zone and should be one of the strongest teams in the conference in the defensive zone as they look for a return to the conference tournament.

Forward

UMass Boston will need its veteran forward to step up this season and get significant contributions from its newcomers as well.

Senior Katherine Wall (Arlington, MA) returns as an assistant captain and will be counted on for her playmaking ability once again. She was among the team's leaders with a career-high 12 assists last year and will also be looked upon for her penalty killing prowess. Classmate Lauren O'Connor (Everett, MA) is also an assistant captain and should play a huge role as one of the team's leaders. She should give the Beacons a boost in killing penalties.

the team's top rookies last season and is very sturdy on her skates. She should contribute to the offense after netting eight goals as UMass Boston's fourth-leading scorer last year. Junior Maria Guanci (Everett, MA) is one of the team's most versatile players, able to compliment any combination on the ice. She's a physical force with the ability to shut down opponents on the penalty kill. Sophomore Kim Davidge (Blackstone, MA) should be a goal-scoring threat for the team after a solid rookie season that saw her being named the conference rookie of the week on two occasions. She was the only freshmen to play in all 27 contests and finished with 11 points, including seven goals. Classmate Katelyn Corsino (Belmont, MA) is back as well and should help out on any line that she's on with playmaking abilities and a good head for the game.

Sophomore forward Kim Davidge was the only freshman to play in all 27 games last season.

The Beacons could get some big contributions from a pair of sophomore transfers as well. Sandy Parlato (Needham, MA) comes to UMass Boston from Division I Sacred Heart University, where she put up 12 points, including nine assists in 28 games. She has great speed and ability to skate around opponents and should make an immediate impact, while Maria Nasta (Andover, MA) comes from rival New England College. She's a natural goal scorer with good speed and vision, who tallied seven points, including five goals in 17 games last year.

Freshmen Rachel Sousa (Woburn, MA) and Jazz Webber (Winslow, ME) should also help right away. Sousa is dangerous in the offensive zone and should see a lot of ice time coming off a great prep career with Woburn High School and the Chelmsford Lions, while Webber, who won five letters at Hebron Academy, is quick and speedy and should see a lot of time, including action on the power play.

Freshmen Kristine Faffley (Westmoreland, NY), Katie Kirwan (Centerville, MA) and Teresa Horn (New Boston, NH) should all provide good depth. Faffley's speed and non-stop work ethic will be great assets. Kirwan has good skating skills and Horn should develop and get better as the season goes on.

Season Outlook

WOMEN'S

Defense

UMass Boston's strength should come from the blueline with a combination of exceptional talent and experience on this year's squad that should put its defense among the best in the league.

Senior captain Rose Devlin (Quincy, MA) is the Beacons' only senior on defense and has become a better player every year for UMB. She will be counted on to lead the defense with her experience and size as well as the heart she displays on the ice. Sophomore Stephanie Medeiros (Somerset, MA) joined the team for the season's second semester after transferring from Division I Quinnipiac University. She's one of the best players on the team and will make a significant impact on both ends of the ice. She has great speed and instincts. Classmate Amanda Cianciulli (Billerica, MA) also transferred from the Division I ranks, coming to Boston from Robert Morris University for the second semester of last year. She has great speed and instincts and will be an integral part in penalty kill and power play situations.

Sophomore Katelyn Pohlman (Newton, MA) saw action in 21 games last year and has good speed to go with great improvement. She should provide depth to the blue line. A trio of freshmen should also help right way. Lauren Duran

(Woburn, MA) played with Sousa and is a strong, smart blueliner, who has a great shot and should see a lot of action, including on the power play and Hannah Davis (Oakdale, MN) has good size and is a solid, stay-at-home defenseman, who will see a lot of time on the ice as well.

Goal tender

The Beacons' goaltending group shows great promise and potential. UMass Boston returns the starting goalie from a year ago and adds a pair of newcomers, who will push for starring time between the pipes as well.

Junior Jessica Sams (Bellingham, MA) started 21 of 27 contests last year and spent more time between the pipes in a season than any other goalie in school history with 1186:25 minutes. She posted a .900 save percentage to rank seventh in ECAC East and placed eighth with a 3.19 goals against average and also earned Goalie of the Week honors last year. Her total of 565 saves was the second-highest total for a UMass Boston goalie and her nine victories tied the school-standard. Her experience and work ethic should give her the nod for the starting role in net.

Junior Jessica Sams played in a school-record 1186:25 minutes last season.

Freshmen Aly Garnett (Winthrop, MA) and Brittany Squillante (Scottsdale, AZ) will both vie for minutes between the pipes for the Beacons. Garnett is very confident and should see a lot of action, following an outstanding prep career. She was a four-year letterwinner at Saint Mary's High School and named to the Boston Globe's All-Scholastic team as well as the Boston Herald's Dream Team. Squillante is a good, technical goaltender, who was a three-year letterwinner at Notre Dame Preparatory in Arizona and should also see time for UMass Boston this season.

Women's hockey is one of the fastest growing sports in the United States and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) has played the role of both a leader and a pioneer during the two decades that it has been involved with the game.

Home to the premier Division I league in the nation, the ECAC boasts a history that gleams with accomplishments. From individual honors to contributions on the international stage, the ECAC and its players and coaches have set a high standard for excellence in the game. At the Division I level, ECAC players have 29 times achieved All-America honors, won 25 Olympic Gold Medals, and have won the Patty Kazmaier Award all five years it has existed as a designation of the nation's top player.

Membership in the ECAC's leagues has changed to meet the needs of the exploding collegiate sport as 22 teams have called the ECAC home since the first championship was contested in 1984.

The ECAC also sponsors hockey at the Division III level with some of the best programs in the nation residing in ECAC East and West. Members of Division III ECAC can be found in Pennsylvania, New York State and every corner of New England. Members of the East Division include Manhattanville College, The College of the Holy Cross, University of Southern Maine, New England College, Saint Michael's College, Salve Regina University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Saint Anselm College, Castleton State College, Plymouth State University, Norwich University and University of Massachusetts Boston. The West includes Elmira College, SUNY-Plattsburgh, Neumann College, Utica College, SUNY-Cortland, Buffalo State College, SUNY-Oswego, Rochester Institute of Technology, and Chatham College. Elmira won the National Championship in 2002 and 2003, defeating Manhattanville for the title in 2003, but fell in the 2005 championship game. Plattsburgh lost in the 2006 title game, but took the trophy in 2007.

A Magical First Year

When the puck dropped at 6:57 p.m. on November 7, 2003, it was the culmination of thousands of hours of hard work by so many people dedicated to the success of UMass Boston women's ice hockey. Whether the Beacons won or lost that night, they represented the hopes of everything that's good about UMass Boston. They would symbolize a concerted effort to build a program from the ground up, the right way.

Freshman forward Calli Beskosty netted the night's first goal at the 4:01 mark of the first period to give UMB a 1-0 edge. Beskosty, would add another goal later in the evening and would combine with classmates, Andrea Ciarletta and Melissa Belmonte for 10 points on the night as the Beacons defeated the visiting State University of New York - Cortland Red Dragons, 5-3.

In a season where just being competitive would have been enough, UMass Boston's women's ice hockey team gave the campus a year to remember. The Beacons busted out of the gate, becoming the first program in school history to win its first five games and went on to finish the campaign with a 13-12-1 mark. Along the way, a UMass Boston player was named ECAC East Rookie of the Week on five occasions and twice had the top goaltender for the week and the week's best player once.

The "new kid" didn't look so wide-eyed as it consistently tested established programs throughout the season, including a 3-1 Valentine's Day victory over the nation's number seven-ranked team, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. It wouldn't be the last time that the Beacons would surprise an opponent as they upended heavily favored Rochester Institute of Technology on the road, 6-4, on February 28 to advance to the semi-finals round of the ECAC East post-season tournament.

The magical run finally came to an end with a loss to the nation's number one team, Manhattanville College, but considering UMass Boston didn't even exist on the women's ice hockey landscape just one year prior, it was a pretty lofty achievement and those in hockey circles took notice, selecting UMB Head Coach Laura Schuler as the ECAC East Coach of the Year. After leading the nation in scoring with 2.15 points per game, Ciarletta was named the conference Rookie of the Year and was tabbed to the league's Second Team All-Star squad, along with freshman defenseman Kerri Zizzo. Belmonte finished as the Division III's number three scorer, was named to the ECAC East Honorable mention team and was also a member of the conference All-Rookie unit with Ciarletta and Zizzo. Junior defenseman Jenn Murray was also an honorable mention selection for the Beacons.

Building a History

In 2000, the University of Massachusetts Boston made a decision to add women's ice hockey to its athletic program. It would be the first new program added at UMass Boston since 1995 and it was imperative that everything would be done right to give the new program all the necessities to succeed from the beginning. Former Canadian Olympic Hockey star, Laura Schuler, was hired as the team's first ever Head Coach in the Fall of 2001. Soon, thereafter, former teammate, Linda Lundrigan, was brought on as her first assistant coach. Schuler spent all of 2001-02 traveling across the region and watching prep hockey games, recruiting future Beacons to fill out the roster for the 2002-03 club campaign. In UMass Boston's club season, a group of young women, who would get the puck moving for UMB, competed against primarily varsity teams and also a few club squads, while posting a very respectable 9-7-1 mark. The core of that team returned for UMB's inaugural varsity season, along with some very good newcomers to form the foundation for UMass Boston Women's Ice Hockey team. The Beacons entered the 2003-04 season as a member of the Eastern College Athletic Conference and compete in the East division.

Nickname and Colors

Looking to establish an identity for UMass Boston's athletic program, the athletic department staff selected Beacons as the University nickname, and royal blue and white as the school colors in the mid-1970s.

The nickname was chosen because UMass Boston sits on Boston Harbor, where lighthouses dot the coastline. The most renowned lighthouse in Boston Harbor, or the rest of the country for that matter, is Boston Light. Located at the entrance to the harbor, the structure has guided ships to safe harbor since first illuminating its beacon in 1716. The British destroyed Boston Light in 1776, but Governor John Hancock had the lighthouse rebuilt in 1781.

On September 23, 2002, UMass Boston introduced a "new" Beacon and changed its colors to Beacon Blue, Black and White.

Seeing the light

For centuries, beacons have guided ships in the most perilous waters to safety. Quite often, a beacon was the only light sailors could see in the black of night. The light was reassuring. Hopeful. Sustaining. It helped ships stay the course. A beacon of light has since become synonymous with any source of guidance and inspiration. The word "beacon" became part of the heritage of the City of Boston in the 1780's, when a beacon stood on what is now called Beacon Hill. Today, Beacon Hill, the most historic and elegant neighborhood in the city, is recognized as the essence of Old Boston.

Lighting the Way

Paul Finnegan, one of the first administrators of athletics at the University of Massachusetts, Boston, recognized the symbolic importance of the beacon. In fact, he became a beacon in his own right. In the early 1970's, Finnegan established intramural and recreational athletics for UMass Boston Students at the university's first campus in Park Square, with programs on the Boston Common and at the Greater Boston YMCA. Knowing that the campus would be built on Boston Harbor, where beacons guide ships from all over the world, Finnegan believed a beacon would be the ideal symbol to represent UMass Boston and its athletic teams.

Shine On

With good reason. The beacon is a symbol of hope and guidance. As a light that is never extinguished, it represents a constant. A promise that, if you persevere, you will reach your destination. As the city's only public university, UMass Boston guides students to a better future. It offers promise to those associated with the university that they can shine. Rise above. Realize their hopes and dreams. It reflects UMass Boston Athletics. UMass Boston athletic teams have been known as the Beacons since 1974. In 1982, an official logo was rendered. It remained for almost 20 years but this friendly cartoon character failed to capture the drive and determination of UMass Boston's athletics. However, the new Beacon logo does exactly that. And more.

Our logo, like our program, conveys light, strength and endurance. We have an intensity of focus, a relentless pursuit to achieve. We endure in the darkest of outlooks. With a substantial international student-athlete population, we are a beacon for diversity. In fact, we are the only institution in the country with a Beacon as its mascot. Appropriately, this is UMass Boston, a university like no other.

WOMEN'S
ICE HOCKEY

This is UMass Boston

The University of Massachusetts Boston was established in 1964 to provide the opportunity for superior education at moderate cost to the people of greater Boston.

Starting out in a downtown Boston location, the university moved to its current 175-acre campus on the Columbia Point peninsula in 1974 and merged with Boston State College in 1982. A commuter school, UMass Boston is nationally recognized as a model of excellence for urban universities.

UMass Boston enrolled 12,362 students in the 2006-2007 academic year, with 9,246 undergraduate students and 3,116 graduate students comprising a multicultural and diverse student body. Students of all ages are enrolled at UMass Boston and students of color make up 36 percent of the university's undergraduate enrollment. More than 90 languages are spoken in the homes of members of the 2007 graduating class.

UMass Boston's graduate school and six colleges offer over 100 undergraduate majors, minors, and programs of study, and nearly 61 graduate programs, including 14 at the doctoral level., while the university's 30 institutes and centers are actively involved in research and public service in the areas of public policy; gerontology; media; labor; women in politics; African-American, Latino, and Asian issues; and environmental concerns. More than 280 active research and training grants attracted a total $35.6 million in external funds—a new record of success—for the fiscal year 2004-05. Comparing five-year averages shows the amount awarded UMass Boston increased a remarkable 70% between 2001 and 2005. The university employs 815 distinguished faculty members, including Lloyd Schwartz, winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Criticism.

Located in the Boston community of Dorchester, UMass Boston offers excellent views of downtown Boston, the Harbor Islands and Dorchester Bay. UMass Boston shares its campus with the John F. Kennedy Library, which offers its archival resources to UMass Boston students and instructors. The university's own Healey Library is an information gateway to more than 600,000 books and journals on campus and to thousands of electronic information resources on the Internet.

Other academic facilities include the biology department's three greenhouses, which host collections of plant species native to tropical, desert and temperate climates, and The Instructional Technology Center, a professional development and technology facility for faculty and staff, which opened in 1996.

The Clark Athletic Center is home to UMass Boston's varsity athletics program and features a 3,500-seat arena, a hockey arena that seats 1,000, and a swimming and diving facility equipped for intercollegiate competition. The Beacon Fitness Center is equipped with more than 25 cardiovascular machines, a universal weight machine, 16 Nautilus stations and free weights. The Fitness Center also houses two racquetball courts, a squash court, an aerobics room, a walking track and a two-level lounge.

The newest major addition to the UMass Boston landscape is the 331,000-square-foot Campus Center — a $50 million project which centralizes student services and activities. The campus' new "front entrance" opened in April of 2004.

Why UMass Boston?

WOMEN'S

There's no doubt. The city of Boston and the surrounding area boast many of the world's finest institutions of higher learning. And UMass Boston is one of them. Here's why you should consider UMass Boston.

 UMass Boston is a member of the Little East Conference, which is unquestionably one of the top Division III conferences in the nation.

 Aside from providing a competitive playing environment, the UMB athletic department also doubles as a place where students can receive hands-on training in nearly all facets of athletics administration.

 At UMass Boston, you learn from the best. A faculty with more Harvard Ph.Ds than any school in the United States (except Harvard).

 The university is the only educational institution in the Northeast that shares its campus with a presidential library.

 UMass Boston has won four NCAA Division III national championships, 19 individual national titles and has seen 21 different athletes achieve All-America status a total of 94 times.

 Our home, the Clark Athletic Center, is one of the best Division III athletic facilities in New England.

 UMass Boston is the only four-year, state-supported institution inside the Interstate 95 beltway.

 Students have the opportunity to commute from home or live off-campus with teammates.

 We're located just three miles from downtown Boston with all of the city's major attractions easily accessible from the campus.

Academic Advising

At UMass Boston we prepare our students for life.

And because the life of a college student can be much more challenging than a basketball game or a soccer match, the UMass Boston athletic department provides you with the means to be successful in whatever sport you play, and also in the game of life.

UMass Boston's academic advising center for student athletes is designed to help each Beacon athlete in every sport complete his or her undergraduate degree. We make sure that our students are not solely concerned with maintaining athletic eligibility. We work extensively with the faculty and professional staff on-campus, and we help our students with course selection, advising and counseling, and career and graduate school exploration.

When you enroll at UMass Boston, you will get to know your advisor quite well. One of our primary focuses is freshman-year retention, so we are highly motivated in your first year to work with you to develop a plan for academic success. Your advisor will meet with you on a one-to-one basis and introduce you to the Clark Athletic Center's computer lab--a fully equipped facility open exclusively to UMB student-athletes.

Your academic advisor will also work with your professors. Your instructors will update the athletic department with progress reports, and when you are having trouble, they will let us know. But more importantly, they'll let us know how we can help you.

As a student athlete at UMass Boston you will have unique opportunities to represent the University on a national level and in national programs.

Sports Medicine

Quite simply, the sports medicine center at UMass Boston is one of the best in the area. It combines the best facility with the best people -- all with the goal of keeping Beacon student-athletes healthy.

The sports medicine room falls under the direction of head athletic trainer Ed Perkins, a UMass Boston graduate and former athlete with the Beacons. Before taking over at UMB, Ed worked with the nationally ranked men's basketball team at Temple University before returning to Division III athletics at MIT and at Bridgewater State College.

Shannon Soares, a certified athletic trainer in her own right, is the university's assistant athletic trainer. Shannon's credentials include a stint with Dennis-Yarmouth High School as its head athletic trainer and two summers working with top major league baseball prospects in the prestigious Cape Cod League.

What that means to you is that when you become a member of the Beacons, you are in the safest environment possible. Whether it be injury prevention, evaluation, treatment, or rehabilitation, the training staff at UMass Boston is looking out for you.

Before you are eligible for competition, you will be required to undergo a thorough physical examination. You will be monitored throughout the training phase and competitive season. And the training staff works closely with your head coach to make your participation in Beacon athletics as safe as it can be.

To ensure quality individual care, the training staff regularly acquires the latest and most effective modalities. The sports medicine center at UMass Boston is equipped with a four-channel electrical stimulation with combination ultrasound unit, a paraffin bath, two hydrocollator units, a Jobst compression unit and a whirlpool bath.

Strength & Conditioning

The University of Massachusetts Boston is one of the few NCAA III schools in the country to offer a year round strength and conditioning program.

The varsity weight room is designed to improve all areas of athletic performance for all sports. The strength and conditioning coach is a certified professional. The focus is to educate and train athletes on how to properly execute exercises that will allow them to be more efficient with the sports specific movements and enable them to participate with a reduced chance of injury. Our goal is to produce athletes who are faster, stronger and more powerful, in order for them to compete at their highest level.

The student athlete at UMass Boston has a wealth of athletic and recreational facilities available within the confines of the Clark Athletic Center.

The athletic center has served as the home of the Beacon basketball program since its completion in 1981.

Named for Catherine Forbes Clark, a former trustee of the University of Massachusetts system and prominent Dorchester civic leader, the Clark Athletic Center emulates its namesake by serving the University community as well as area residents throughout the year.

Considered one of the finest athletic and recreational facilities in Greater Boston, the complex accommodates the school's 16 intercollegiate sports and extensive intramural program. The Center's building houses a main gymnasium, which includes a 3,500-seat basketball arena along with three auxiliary basketball courts and two volleyball courts, a 1,000-seat ice rink, and an Olympic-size swimming pool with a high-dive area, six 25-yard lanes and an observation deck. A weight room, creative room and a sports medicine area round out the interior of the structure.

Outside the building, UMass Boston boasts an eight-lane 400-meter track, eight tennis courts, a softball diamond and two multipurpose fields primarily used for soccer and lacrosse. The outdoor facilities also include a boathouse and dock for the sailing program as well as several recreational fields.

In addition to extensive use by the intercollegiate and intramural programs, the Clark Athletic Center serves as the site for numerous community activities. Included in the list of community activities are a variety of events for both youth and the physically challenged.

UMass Boston hosts the National Youth Sports Program, an NCAA-sponsored summer camp for inner-city youth, as well as the Dana Barros Basketball Camp, the All Dorchester Sports League, the Boston Youth Games, the Boston Housing Authority Jamboree, the Bay State Games and MIAA state tournament games in soccer, ice hockey and basketball.

The athletic center became the new home of the Boston Shootout, the premier high school basketball tournament in the nation, in 1997 and has served as a workout facility for the Boston Celtics and the 2000 McDonald's All-American High School Basketball team, while also serving as the site of the Sprite Slam Jam. During the summer of 1999, the center began hosting the Shaw's Summer Pro League, featuring current and future stars of the NBA. The center also hosts the Indiana Pacers and San Antonio Spurs during the NBA season, serving as a practice site for both of those teams on their visits to Boston.

The Clark Athletic Center saw its most excitement for 2000 in just one night when on October 3rd, the University hosted the first United States Presidential Debate of 2000. When the parties finally agreed to the Boston debate, the event was suddenly only two weeks away. In that time frame the Clark Athletic Center had to be converted into a debate hall and the adjacent hockey rink into a media center, replete with red carpet, approximately 700 phones, more than 70 televisions, and accommodations for almost 1,600 media representatives from around the world. The complex has also doubled as a concert venue, hosting multiple-Grammy winning artist Kanye West in 2006.

UMass Boston also boasts one of the finest personal fitness facilities in the area in the Beacon Fitness Center. The state-of-the-art recreational area provides students, faculty and staff with modern equipment in a clean environment.

The fitness center offers cardiovascular machines, nautilus and free weights, squash and racquetball courts, a walking track and aerobics.

Intercollegiate athletics, intramurals and recreation for students, staff and faculty are the primary programs of the UMass Boston Department of Athletics. The department offers 14 varsity sports and is a member of the NCAA's Division III. UMass Boston has teams competing in the ECAC, the Little East Conference and ECAC East Ice Hockey. Ninety-three Beacons in seven sports have been named All-Americans. The women's indoor and outdoor track and field teams had an outstanding record of achievement, including four NCAA Team Championships and 37 individual NCAA Championships.

But the Department of Athletics has another important concern as well-service to the community. Whether it's complimentary use of the University's athletic facilities, coaches' and student athletes' sports clinics for youth groups, or holiday visits to area hospitals, UMass Boston Athletics is in the forefront of serving area neighborhoods and communities throughout the state.

- More than 150 school, charitable, government and private organizations use UMass Boston athletic facilities each year at little or no cost.
- Over 2,500 people visit our athletic facilities each year, as participants or spectators.
- UMass Boston's indoor and outdoor athletic facilities are in use by visitors for over 2100 hours each year.
- In 2005 the National Consortium for Academics and Sports named the Department of Athletics at UMass Boston as #1 in the country for Community Service for the eighth straight year.
- UMass Boston was named "Honorable Mention" by the National Association of Division III Athletics Administrators/Jostens in the category of *An Array of Projects or Activities in 2005.

UMass Boston is in a unique position as the only public university in the City of Boston. For that reason, the University has a responsibility above and beyond its mission to provide a superior higher education at moderate cost to the people of the metropolitan area. Because of its urban environment and its spacious, coastline location, the University can reach out to its neighbors and provide first rate facilities for healthy, stimulating sports and recreational activities.

National Consortium for Academics and Sports member institutions develop Outreach and Community Service programs with current student-athletes and former student-athletes from the Degree Completion Program. Over the last 21 years, NCAS member institutions, through their outreach and community service programs, have reached more than 15.3 million youth nationwide with messages about violence prevention, gender sensitivity, conflict resolution, the importance of academics and athletics, staying in school, the dangers of drugs and alcohol, and much more. Since 1985, NCAS student-athletes have given over 16.6 million hours of community service.

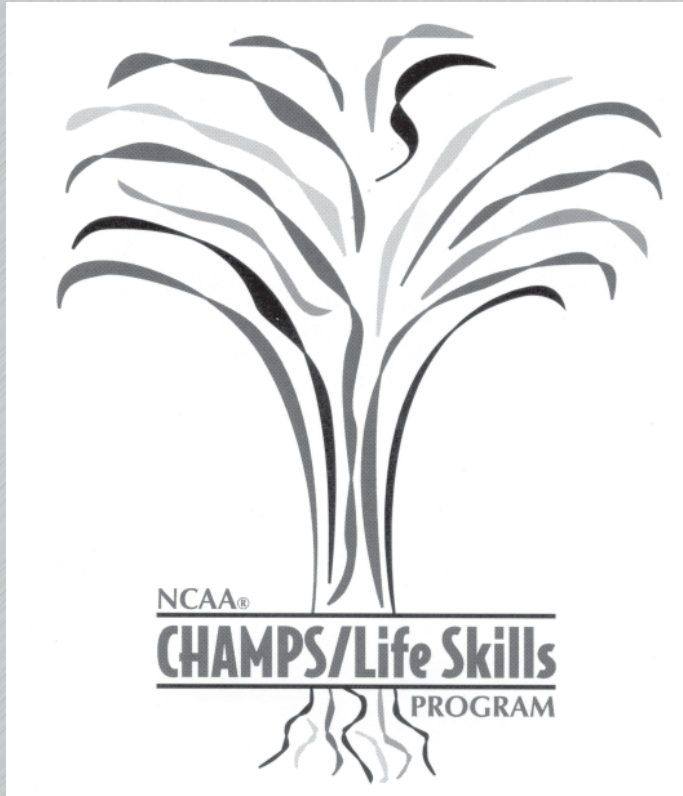

There is no one way to conduct school outreach programs. It is clear from the great work done by NCAS members that there are many ways to provide quality programs. Their diversity and contributions to our nation is extraordinary.

Going far beyond the conventional assembly-style programs, UMass Boston's teams make it a point to get out in the community and be visible, while lending a helping hand. Here are just a few examples:

- Boston Medical Center Christmas Toy visit – Men's Basketball distributed toys for sick kids
- Community Servings – Men's and Women's Ice Hockey teamed up to sell pies to benefit Boston's only free, home-delivered meals program for individuals and families with life-threatening diseases
- Homeless Veterans Shelter – Baseball lent a hand to the homeless, making a visit during the first week of December.
- Martin Luther King Day – Athletes cooked and served dinner to Harbor Point residents
- Rhett Syndrome Research Foundation – Women's Ice Hockey helped to raise money during the Rett Syndrome Strollathon.
- Beacon Dash – Cross Country teams sponsor and run the event with proceeds going to the Early Learning Center
- Bring Your Child to Work Day – Womens' basketball ran a clinic for 30 kids along with arts and crafts

As a student athlete at UMass Boston you will have unique opportunities to represent the University on a national level and in national programs.

NCAA CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS

The 2000-01 school year marked the department's first year as a member of the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills program. Presently, 323 institutions and six conference offices now participate in this NCAA supported life skills program. The NCAA mission of CHAMPS/Life Skills is "committed to a comprehensive program that provides educational experience and services in order to develop well balanced lifestyles for student-athletes; to encourage growth in decision making, planning and fulfillment of career and life goals."

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program will be presented this year at UMB through the development of workshops/guest speakers that address identified life skill needs in the five commitment areas of this program.

As part of our membership in CHAMPS/Life Skills, each year one of four student athlete nominees will attend the NCAA Foundation Leadership Conference.

STUDENT ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) is comprised of student athlete representatives from each of UMass Boston's teams. The purpose of the organization is to promote all UMB sports and provide student athletes an opportunity to impact those issues that affect their daily lives.

SAAC is the student athlete's voice and their vehicle to implement new ideas and influence positive change to enhance the student-athlete experience at UMass Boston.

Members of each team will nominate and select an eligible student athlete to represent their sport on the SAAC. An alternate will also be selected, in the event that the designated representative cannot attend a meeting. It is expected that each team will be represented at every scheduled meeting/event.

Throughout the year, student athletes are encouraged to communicate ideas and concerns to the respective representative of their sport.
